

OFFICE MARKET OVERVIEW

ERIC SOLEM, Managing Principal, President

Boston's office market is experiencing a significant downturn due to decreased post-pandemic demand, a slowdown in the life sciences sector, and an influx of new supply. Office attendance is low, with MBTA ridership at 70% of pre-pandemic levels. Reduced space needs have led to a record-high availability rate of 17.5% and a net absorption of -4.6 million SF over the past year. Since 2022, 12 million SF of new space has been added, with 15 million SF expected by 2025. Vacancy rates have risen to 12.8%, and sublet availability has surged to 13.7 million SF. Average market rents are stagnant, while office investment sales have dropped. Despite these challenges, Boston's economy remains strong, but the market outlook is cautious with rising vacancy and falling rents expected.
