

RETAIL MARKET OVERVIEW

CHRIS NACHTRAB, Senior Vice President

Landlords continue to have the upper hand in retail lease negotiations throughout most of the greater Cincinnati market. In the third quarter of 2024, the Cincinnati retail market continued to experience tight conditions due to limited new supply and high tenant retention. Vacancy rates remained low at 3.8%, with net absorption of approximately -12,677 square feet. Rent growth was steady at 2.6% year-over-year, slightly above the national average. Leasing activity was primarily driven by food service tenants and grocers, accounting for 25% of the 12-month lease volume. Construction activity remained subdued, with just 600,000 square feet under construction (representing 0.4% of the market inventory) most of which is preleased.
